

JUNIOR MUSIC CLUB MET THURSDAY—

The January meeting of the Junior Music Club was held in the home of Miss Katherine Mullins with Miss Carolyn English assisting hostess on Thursday afternoon at 8:30.

The home was attractively decorated with bowls of white japonicas and other cut flowers of the season combined with potted plants.

Miss Martha Edmondson, president, presided and conducted a short business session at which time roll call and minutes of last meeting were read and reports of officers were made.

The program was on the theme of "Church Music," and consisted of the following numbers: Talk on Psaumes, "Father of Church Music," by Claude Fleming; Piano Solo, Variation on "Nearer My God To Thee," by Jo Ann Clark; Talk, "What the Early Church Did For Music," by Martha Edmondson; Piano Solo, "In the Style of Gluck," by Katherine Mullins; Talk, "What Early England Did For Music," by Martha Ann Dixon; and the following group of hymns sung by the club: "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God" (Martin Luther); "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth" from "The Messiah" (Handel); "Old Hundred"—first hymn sung by the pilgrims.

Temping refreshments of hot chocolate, sandwiches and cakes were served at the conclusion of the program to the following members: Misses Claudine Fleming, Peggy Blue, Martha Edmondson, Betty Ann Faris, Margaret Britt, Jo Ann Clark, Nina English, Jo Lovell, Martha Ann Dixon, Katherine Mullins, Carolyn English, and Mrs. Arden Pratt.

Fresh fruits and vegetables, and food canned and processed for home use will not be included in the rationing program. This with in itself should encourage both rural and urban residents of Alabama to plant victory gardens and produce their food at home this year.

Beginning January 21, the bakers are forbidden to sell to the merchants any sliced bread. They are also forbidden to replace any old or stale bread with fresh bread.

In view of the above conditions and the fact that there has always been a very small margin of profit on bread, we are asking our customers to co-operate with us.

We, the undersigned merchants, cannot replace old or stale bread with fresh bread.

Coast Guard Enlists

WASHINGTON—The coast guard is going to have its cavalry. It announced today that it is seeking horsemen living near Atlantic or Gulf coast for a newly organized mounted beach patrol. Dancer Exempted From War Duty by British EDINBURGH—On condition that he continue his present occupation, Raymond O'Farrell, conscientious objector, today remains exempt from war service.

The Edinburgh Tribunal granted exemption when O'Farrell pleaded: "I feel that in my own profession I am doing an immense amount of good by keeping people alive to beauty in these times."

His job—bullet dancer.

Terror Stalks Nazi-Held Land

Brutality, Starvation and Sudden Death Is Dread Picture of Ukraine.

GENEVA—The conquered area of the rich Russian Ukraine, which Adolf Hitler planned to make a "second American Midwest," today is a scorched land, ridden by terror, starvation and sudden death. That is the picture that can be drawn from reports flowing into Switzerland.

The Ukrainians have learned that the collaboration Hitler prated about means brutality, mass executions and ruthless domination like something from the dark ages.

There always has been a strong movement in that conquered territory for the Ukrainians for Ukrainian independence. These measures were highly unpopular. Some Ukrainian nationalists were sent to Siberia for their part in the anti-Nazi movement.

Hitler Makes Pledges.

Before Germany and Russia went to war a year ago, Hitler had made marked progress in fostering the strong Ukrainian independence movement. Nazi agents promised "liberation" from Stalin's domination and an autonomous state for the Ukrainians.

But when the German legion began their march into Soviet territory, something happened to the Ukrainians. They learned that the Ukrainians were not to be the masters of their own land, but the slaves of the German empire.

Perhaps Hitler changed his mind about the best method of securing control of the life-giving Ukrainian wheat. Perhaps the German army got out of hand. At any rate, the carefully cultivated "collaboration against Stalin" gave way to black oppression and extermination of the Ukrainians.

The Nazi army quickly dropped its talk of liberation and collaboration. Ukrainians were told to drop their arms and go back to work under penalty of death if they refused. The Ukrainian nationalists were imprisoned. The peasants were stripped of their land.

The result was that the Ukrainians suffered the backs against the invaders.

Tells of Brutality.

Tales of Nazi brutality came from many sources. One told of slaughter in Kiev, a city of about 600,000 people at the time of its conquest. "There the Germans executed the best section of the city, moved for a short time and settled down for a long stay. Soon explosions rocked that section and entire city blocks were blown into the air. The Germans then sent the outsiders to get up camp. In retaliation, according to reports, the Ukrainians, they shot 240,000 inhabitants."

These same reports say that the Nazi army has shown it is a blood-thirsty and merciless, in dealing with conquered people. Entire villages have been blotted out in eastern Europe.

The Ukrainians themselves have tales about all this. They believe that the German actions are the result of certain general concepts that have been pounded into the self-styled "master race" since Adolf Hitler assumed power in 1933. The chief of these concepts, say the Ukrainians, is that life is a struggle between races and that the only way to settle the score between hostile races is by extermination.

Soldiers' Mascot Given Lesson in White Liquids

FORT RICHMOND, ALASKA—Molly, the yearling Kenai cow, once adopted as a mascot by a company of soldiers here, apparently thought the outfit's cook had been quite uncomely careless when she spotted a large bucket of white liquid standing on the mess-hall steps.

Having been raised on milk, she unhesitatingly plunged her elongated nose into the bucket, and, keeping a wary eye on the mess-hall door, began to drink. One gulp was plenty. The bucket contained white paint.

The veterinary reports Molly will recover.

Gardens To Play Important Part In 1943 War Effort

Alabama gardens will play an important part in our war effort in 1943. People have to be well fed to work. About 50 per cent of our diet should be vegetables.

If we are to have plenty of vegetables, fresh, canned and dried, they will have to be grown in Alabama. Every family, rural and urban, can and will help in the war effort this year by growing a garden.

Growing a good all-year garden is a profitable practice even in normal times. Records show that a half-acre garden will produce on the average $150 worth of food.

There are several points that must be kept in mind in the growing of a good all-year garden. First, the soil must be fertile and contain plenty of humus. A fairly liberal application of fertilizers for a 100 ft. row would be 100 lbs. of manure or 12 lbs. of a 2-8-7 fertilizer applied in the row two weeks before time to plant.

It is essential that good seed varieties that are adapted to local conditions be planted. Seed have to be planted at the right depth. For example, beans and peas can be planted two to four inches deep, depending on the weather conditions. However, if beans, carrots or lettuce seed are planted more than a half inch deep they won't even get out of the ground.

Vegetables are up to a good stand give them shallow cultivation often enough to keep down weeds. Do not dig around your plants. If vegetables don't grow off as they should, or in case they stop growing, your garden now!

THE HEART'S DESIRE

By Ruth Taylor

"Freedom is the right to seek for one's heart's desire—and to let the other man hunt for his."

Doesn't this thought express the ideals and dreams of all of us? We are all seekers after our heart's desire, that vision that is our guiding star, leading us on through discouragement, heartache and despair, toward a shining goal at the rainbow's end.

"The right to seek"—freedom to move about, to be no man's slave and no man's master, but free to search for those things which we want, a home, economic security, a job in which we can serve others because we wish to serve them. That is a right forever laid down to us in the Constitution. That is a right we will never abrogate. We will voluntarily lay it aside in times of common danger.

"Our heart's desire"—the goal of happiness which is common to all of us—matters how we may express it. Our heart's desire is for the betterment of ourselves and of those we hold dear. It may be sacrifice that is our heart's desire, the priests who went to minister unto the lepers were so motivated; it may be the building of a home that is our heart's desire—the conquering of the wilderness was the fruit of this wish; it may be greater benefits for our children, our free schools, our great universities, our high spirited teachers are the fulfillment of that dream. Our heart's desire is not the same for any of us; but it is ours, created out of our needs, our hope and our faith—not by the will of another man.

"To let the other man hunt for his"—we cannot keep freedom to ourselves. Freedom is never a lonely thing, a right of one man for himself alone. Special privilege is license, not liberty. Freedom by its very nature is universal. We must never forget that the master is slave as well as the captive, the jailer as well as the captive. Our homes are safe as we respect our neighbor's home. Our children grow in strength and learn wisdom

BASIN 4-H CLUB BOYS ELECT NEW OFFICERS

The regular meeting of Basin 4-H club boys was held January 20. The meeting was called to order by the president, Harold Moody.

Several interesting discussions were given by Rabon Barton, Lamar Parker, Marv D. Smith and Hollis Parker.

What I myself saw in my four years in Europe gave me a new realization of the priceless rights which we here enjoy.

No secret police can in the night whisk us away, never again to be seen by those we love.

None of us can be deprived by any party, state or tyrant of those precious civil liberties which our laws and our courts guarantee.

None of us can be persecuted for practicing the faith which we found at our mother's knee.

None of us can be persecuted, tortured or killed because of the fact that an accident of fate might have made us of the same race as the Nazarene.

No American can be placed by any party or government in a regimented life which takes from him or her free freedom of economic opportunity or political religious liberty.

What would the millions of unfortunate men, women and children in Europe give to be able to live and enjoy such a way of life?

Well, in this war, those are the things in our lives which are in jeopardy. Our boys are dying to preserve them for us.

Then we can do no less than to give voice to our gratitude and praise to the secret of the treasury, the money which is the key to the door of the treasure house.

Let us sing "To You, To You, To You," as they marched to the table which held the daintily embossed birthday cake. They were served delicious refreshments. Prizes were given each guest.

Those present were: Dickey Rowe, Jane Rowe, Bill Bryan, Mary Ann Stephens, Billy Barker, Bobby Ray, Stewart, Jimmy Smith, Jill Stewart, Frank Brown, Joyce Ann Stewart and Jimmy Windham, who received many pretty and useful gifts.

Government expenditures for war purposes during November amounted to twice the total amount of all the passenger cars and motor trucks produced in the United States in 1940.

GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY!

as we make these opportunities free to all children. We go freely to worship as we allow our neighbor the same privilege. No church, regardless of denomination, is safer than its neighboring cathedral, church, or synagogue. Freedom is based on the self-respect of man, and on his corresponding respect for his neighbor as a man.

What I myself saw in my four years in Europe gave me a new realization of the priceless rights which we here enjoy.

No secret police can in the night whisk us away, never again to be seen by those we love.

None of us can be deprived by any party, state or tyrant of those precious civil liberties which our laws and our courts guarantee.

None of us can be persecuted for practicing the faith which we found at our mother's knee.

None of us can be persecuted, tortured or killed because of the fact that an accident of fate might have made us of the same race as the Nazarene.

No American can be placed by any party or government in a regimented life which takes from him or her free freedom of economic opportunity or political religious liberty.

What would the millions of unfortunate men, women and children in Europe give to be able to live and enjoy such a way of life?

Well, in this war, those are the things in our lives which are in jeopardy. Our boys are dying to preserve them for us.

Then we can do no less than to give voice to our gratitude and praise to the secret of the treasury, the money which is the key to the door of the treasure house.
